Clean Up Campaign Started Wednesday

Mary E. Hudspeth Died Tuesday p. m.

Was Member of West Texas State Faculty Since the Founding of College in 1910

MISS MARY E. HUDSPETH

Yesterday at 3 o'clock, tribute was paid to the memory of Miss Mary Elizabeth Hudspeth whose death occurred at Amarillo Tuesday afternoon after a brief illness. Friends from over the Panhandle and out of state, as well as from Canyon, gathered for the services which were held at the Baptist Church of which she had been a member for thirty-three years.

Miss Hudspeth came to Canyon in 1910 when the college was first organized. Her training had been in the fields of Mathematics and Languages. During the first years, she taught mathematics with Dean L. G. Allen who was head of the department. Shortly after the establishment of the college, she was selected by President R. B. Cousins to be Dean of Women. This position she held until 1926 when she asked to be relieved of administrative responsibilities to devote her entire time to teaching.

Although she taught other languages, Spanish was the one in which she had greatest interest. This interest was partly prompted by her great patriotism. She believed that the fortunes of North America and South America are greatly interwoven, and that only through our appreciation and knowledge of the culture and languages of South America and their knowledge of North America can the peoples be brought together.

Studied Intensively

Miss Hudspeth had studied at Baylor University and received her Bachelor's degree from the University of Nashville, and her Master's degree from Peabody. Further study took her to the Central University of Spain, Madrid, where she spent a year and completed work equivalent to the requirements for a Ph. D. degree which could not be granted without further residence in Spain. In 1940 she was one of a group of teachers of Spanish invited to study at the University of San Marcos, Lima, Peru, as guests of the Peruvian government. She had studied extensively in Mexico for whose culture and people she had profound admiration.

Born at Montecello, Arkansas, Miss Hudspeth was the daughter of Ann Elizabeth Royal Hudspeth and Henry Street Hudspeth and was one of seven children. When she was quite young, the family moved to Texas in the hope of improving the

A group of citizens will entertain him at an informal dinner before the speaking engagement.

Congressman Worley is making a visit to every county of his district in order to tell them what is going on in Washington, and to find out how the people are feeling about domestic problems.

New Minister at Church of Christ Takes Work Here

RAYMOND WHITTINGTON

Raymond Whittington has moved to Canyon, starting his ministry of the Church of Christ this week. He was accompanied by his wife.

Mr. Whittington came to Canyon from Liberty where he served as minister of this church during the past year. Previously he had served as minister at Quitman, San Augustine and Beaumont. He has never served in West Texas, but on his first trip here last month he was greatly impressed with the possibilities of the local church.

Mr. Whittington has extended a cordial invitation to the people of Canyon to attend services at the Church of Christ.

Gas Rationing Due to Rubber Shortage Says OPA Official

Reduction in the value of gasoline coupons from 4 to 3 gallons is due to the rubber situation, according to announcement from OPA headquarters. The rubber stock pile is dwindling and must be conserved, states OPA officials.

The rubber situation has become more and more critical as the war advances. Many have been led to believe that synthetic rubber would ease the situation, but this is not the case. This rubber is just starting into manufacture, and it will take all of this supply to provide the needs of the armed forces. It will be a long time before there will be a sufficient supply to provide for synthetic rubber for civilian uses, states official circles.

Glenn Home Burned Early Sunday Morn

The E. W. Glenn home east of Canyon burned to the ground at 1:30 Sunday morning. The family escaped only in their night clothing. Nothing was saved from the flames.

There were no clues as to how the fire was started.

BUY MORE WAR BONDS!

Paid Fines For Not Showing New Federal Car Tag

A large number of Randall county citizens lined up Monday morning and paid fines of $5 each, and bought the $5 car stamp which they neglected to do before the first of July.

It just happened this way: An investigator from the office of Collector of Internal Revenue came to Canyon Saturday. He checked cars on the streets and took the license plate numbers of those cars which failed to display the 1943 federal car stamp. Car owners were notified to appear Monday morning. They were given the chance to buy a $5 stamp and pay a fine of $5; or, to run the chance of a $25 fine and 30 days in jail.

Those who were called up paid the fine and secured the new stamp. About fifty citizens were called up, and it is believed a large number of other cars in Randall county are still without the 1943 stamp. Other checks may be expected after this haul. Those who failed to secure the stamp by the first of July will profit by writing to the Collector of Internal Revenue at Dallas and securing the stamp before they are hauled in by an inspector.

Mrs. J. C. Pipkin Died Sunday a.m.

Was Oldest Woman in the County; Husband Was Pioneer Merchant of Canyon

Mrs. J. C. Pipkin, the oldest woman in Randall county, died Sunday morning at the family home. She had reached the age of 92 years, months and 7 days at the time of her death. While suffering from almost total deafness for several years, she was in otherwise fair health, considering her age, until recent months.

The Pipkin family moved to Canyon December 28, 1888. J. C. Pipkin was one of the pioneer business men of the town, and was long associated with many business enterprises. When he died in 1939, Mr. and Mrs. Pipkin had been married 69 years.

The funeral service was held Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Methodist Church. She had been a member of this church for 58 years, and transferred her membership to Canyon in May, 1899.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. C. Armstrong. Interment followed in Dreamland Cemetery by the side of her husband. The Griggs - Thompson Funeral Home was in charge of the funeral. Pall bearers were Roscoe Ballard, Lee Foster, W. C. Black, Guy Harp, Jeff Wallace, Dr. L. F. Sheffy.

Canyon Closed to Fight Any Disease

No Case of Infantile Paralysis Here; Citizens Must Keep Cleaned Up

There is no case of infantile paralysis in Canyon, and the City Commission is making an effort to hold the disease in check if any case develops.

Yesterday was clean up day in Canyon.

The City Commission issued a proclamation Friday setting aside Wednesday morning as a holiday. All business houses were required to close, and all citizens were asked to devote the morning to making a thorough clean up of their homes and all their property.

T. A. Black, Air Warden, called all of the Blockmen in a meeting Saturday night, and regulations for the campaign were formulated and distributed Monday. Regulations of cleanliness were issued in a circular so that every citizen could see what is expected of him. Every citizen shall read these regulations carefully.

Of primary importance in this campaign is the elimination of the fly. Flies have been determined to be the chief distributor of infantile paralysis. Flies breed in filth, and so long as filth remains in a community there will be millions of flies, all of them potential disease bearers.

Under the direction of the Air Warden, Blockmen, and the City Health Officer, regular inspections will be made of all alleys, cafes, food stores, and places where livestock is kept in the city. Charges will be filed against any citizen who fails or refuses to dispose of garbage, or allows his stock pens to become breeding places for flies.

Rules were published whereby those with livestock may keep the pens free of flies, and these must be observed, or the law will be applied against those who neglect to do their duty toward the community.

Many weeds were cut and burned before the rain of Tuesday morning. The City Commission urges that citizens continue the campaign to cut weeds in every part of the city, and that these be piled and burned as soon as they are dry.

City trucks are hauling to the dump grounds all rubbish which cannot be burned.

T. A. Black, Air Warden, and W. A. Warren, Mayor, expressed their deep appreciation yesterday of the splendid work which has been done in cleaning up the town. They urge that all citizens who were unable to complete the clean up job yesterday to continue until every breeding place for flies has been eliminated.

In spite of rumors, there has not been a single case of infantile paralysis in Canyon. One case has been reported in the Jowell community, which is the only case in the county. However, parents are urged to observe their children closely. In case of illness, call the family physician immediately and take no chances with the disease.

Three Boys Who Are Prisoners of Japs Send Postcards to Homes

First Word Received From Boys Since the Fall of the Philippines Is Received

Mrs. Hattie Brasuel received a card Monday from her son, Sgt. George A. Brasuel, who is a prisoner of the Japanese. This is the first word she has received from him in a year. She received a letter last August, which was written March 2, 1942, before the fall of Bataan. From August until January of this year she received no word. It was then that she received notice from the War Department that he was a prisoner.

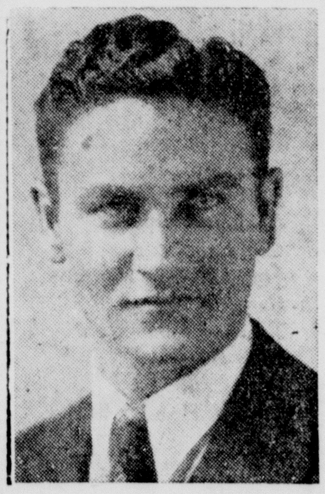
The card was from the Philippine Military Prison Camp No. 1. Japanese is printed over the face of the card. The date of posting could not be made out.

On the reverse of the card were blanks to be filled out by the prisoner. Sgt. Brasuel informed his mother that his health was good; that he was uninjured; that he was well; and for her to write through the International Red Cross. He sent greetings to members of the family.

Mrs. Brasuel was highly elated in receiving this brief message from her son.

In the same mail came a card from Harold S. Lowe to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Lowe, former Canyon citizens who are now living in Amarillo. The War Department had notified them in February of this year that he was a prisoner of war. They had received no word from him since December, 1941.

A card from the Philippine Military Internment Camp No. 1 was received by B. D. Springer and revealed the condition of Boyce (Doc) Springer who is a prisoner of the Japs.



GEORGE BRASUEL

This is the first direct word from him the Springers have received since December, 1941, although in January of this year, the War Department informed them that Mr. Springer was a prisoner of war.

The card, which was signed by him in ink, said his health was good, he was uninjured, and not receiving treatment. In the space reserved for further remarks, he told his sisters "hello," and even called one of his sisters by her nickname.

Question of Pre-Pearl Harbor Dads Is Simplified

Selective Service headquarters announced Sunday from Washington new regulations regarding the induction of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers. New classifications will be set up gor these men by local boards and their induction will be according to this new plan.

Local boards will not receive these plans for several days.

Meeting Thursday afternoon the Randall County board started to bring information down to date on all men of this class. New questionnaires will be sent to all pre-Pearl Harbor fathers in order to bring information up to the minute. Farmers must file their agricultural units at the same time that the new questionnaires are returned. From this new information the local board will set aboutmaking the new classifications according to the new regulations.

A large group of men will leave this afternoon for the induction station at Lubbock where they will take their physical examinations. Those who are accepted may return home for two weeks before reporting to Fort Sill to start their military training. A list of the men leaving is not available for publication until after they are acted upon at Lubbock.

The local board has a call for men who are recommended for limited military service, and these will likely be sent to the induction station in September or October.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Key and family of Lubbock are visiting his mother, Mrs. J. D. Key, and his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Key and Sylvia.

Surprise Rain Lowers Mercury; Aids Vegetation

The first rain in a month fell Tuesday morning. This was a surprise rain to most citizens who were not expecting moisture. High temperature and little wind has been the prevailing brand of weather for the past two weeks, and Monday was no different.

While the rain amounted to only .55 of an inch, it was general over the Panhandle. The temperature was moderated greatly by the rain, and vegetation took on new life. Crops, ranges and gardens were suffering because of the continued dry weather.

This has been the hottest summer in many years, and the effect of the drouth has been felt by all kinds of vegetation.

Institutional Users Must Sign Up Soon

Institutional food users must sign up for September and October allotments between now and Sept. 1.

T. S. Stevenson, clerk of the local Board, stated yesterday that this was very important.

HOME FROM AFRICA

Master Sergeant Glenn D. Hicks returned to the States last Tuesday from North Africa to be sent into cadet training. Sgt. Hicks, who has been in Africa for four months, will be sent to Mississippi for six months training in the Air Corps.

It may sound a little silly for a country newspaper to remind men engaged in a big industry that a day of reckoning may be close at hand for them. We have been told during the 33 years that we have lived in Randall county that cattlemen just have to go broke at regular intervals. The fact remains, nevertheless, that the cattlemen have been enjoying a free ride for three years so far as feed and pasture was concerned. Feed, grass and wheat grazing have never been better. Cattle have boomed, and the Panhandle market is the highest in the Southwest. Much of this is due to the trading of cattlemen one with the other. It is an easy way to make money, trading with your neighbor when he is willing to pay you a profit. But the picture seems to be changing, and a collapse may come before those who are enjoying their present prosperity realize what is going on. The outlook for feed and pasture this fall and winter is very poor. If this drouth continues there will be little feed left and ranges are suffering. The greatest difficulty confronting the cattlement of this section is the fact that feeders of the corn belt simply will not buy range cattle at present prices as the animals cannot be finished for the market under OPA price regulations. These feeders are crying for lower prices on range cattle, and the prices are actually declining. This makes one reach the conclusion that men in the cattle business had better start hedging, getting their stock ready for market, and carrying a no heavier financial load than they can handle if a defininte and sudden slump hits. Naturally the rancher with plenty of grass and feed is not affected by the rise and fall of prices like the fellow who hopes to make his money on trading. The big rancher will be doing business even when the margin boys are wiped out. Does this make sense?

Congratulations are due to the churches of Randall county. All of them have paid their debts. Not a single church building in the county now has an outstanding obligation. Randall county has many beautiful churches. We were told during the depression that the members of the various churches were silly to build such large and beautiful buildings back during the boom days. Perhaps these buildings, some of them at least, are larger than the demands of the congregations. Perhaps the citizens were too over-enthusiastic over the future development of the county when we dreamed of a population of 5,000 for Canyon. But let this be remembered, about 90 per cent of those who made fortunes during the boom days following World War I have lost these fortunes. The only things that many of them have of a permanent and lasting nature are the contributions which they made to the churches of the county. It would have been much wiser had they made larger contributions to the churches and spent less in gambling on the uncertainties which finally led to their financial doom. As the matter stands today, we may all look with pleasure on the beautiful church buildings of the county as something permanent in the way of a spiritual expression of the people of the county. These buildings are a monument to the belief of our citizens in the things spiritual and everlasting. A few years hence and this generation will be gone. The church buildings will remain as a monument to those who have worked and paid and dedicated their lives and their money to spiritual affairs.

We are reading a lot of predictions as to what is going to happen "when the boys come home." About 99 per cent of these predictions are pure hooey. In the first place, men are not going to be discharged from the army so recklessly as they were in 1918-19, unless a political upheaval in 1944 knocks out all sense of proportions. Those who returned from the first war remember distinctly that they had one thought: Get a job and get to work. Remember how hard it was to get men to talk about their experiences "over there?" It will be just as hard this time to get them to talk, and they will have much more to talk about than the veterans of '17-'18. Naturally these men will form an organization. Perhaps they will join the American Legion, but chances are they will form a new organization. Naturally some of them will be politically minded and will cash in on their experiences of this war. But since they are good solid American boys, again we say, most of them will be so anxious to get back on their jobs, get married and have homes of their own, that they are going to forget all of this political thunder regarding which predictions are being made.

There is a move on to hand the ballot to 18-year-olds of the nation. Georgia has already adopted the plan for the state elections. A constitutional amendment will be necessary before this will be possible in federal elections. While the youth of today knows much more than the 18-year-olds did back a quarter of a century ago, are they sufficiently interested in political problems that their votes would be intelligent? To see how some of us oldsters go haywire at election time, you might claim most anything for youth, good or bad. But, honestly, hasn't youth enough problems now to which he must become adjusted during his teen age without throwing him into the political arena, and telling him to fight for his political life?

It seems that we all threw up our hats too soon and shouted too heartily when Mussolini was given the gate in Italy. Instead of acknowledging defeat, the Italian government simply changed drivers. The war continues, regardless of the fact that old Muss is out, and is surplanted by a more able military man. Naturally we all feel that it is only a question of time until Italy will actually be knocked out of the war. In the meanwhile, thousands of lives of American soldiers will be lost simply because Italy is under the thumb of men who want war instead of peace. This leads to another conclusion: If and when Hitler is ousted, don't expect peace. The war lords of Germany used Hitler for their own purpose in starting this war. When they know he is whipped, Hitler will be made the goat. But the war element will continue in power under some other leader. The Axis nations must be whipped and these war lords properly punished before there can be any hope for lasting peace. In 1918 we quit too soon, refusing to heed the plea of General Pershing and others who understood the mind of the German rulers. So long as Germans proclaim that they are the superior race of the world and continue to spit on the balance of the nations there can be no lasting peace.

What will Russia do? We hear that question asked so often, and have wondered about it so much ourselves that the Hitler propagandists have taken up the question. Fantastic answers are being spread by the Nazis for the purpose of dividing the United Nations. Up to the present time Russia has shown that she is in the fight to win. She is determined to drive the Germans out of her country. It is not unreasonable to believe that if Stalin can hold his present pace the Germans will largely be out of Russia by spring. What then? As a matter of fact it will make little difference what Stalin does then. With this accomplished, Germany will be a defeated nation. By that time a second or third or fourth front will be faced by Hitler and his gang of murderers. However, regardless of the propaganda about Stalin being ready to quit when he runs the Germans out of Russia, let it be known that Russia has twice been the victim of the German doublecross. Stalin seems to have a pretty good memory of the injustices which have been handed his people by the war lords of Germany. Will he be ready to negotiate peace after chasing the Germans out of Russia? We choose to bet he will not quit.

We have been hearing so much bla-bla over the radio about the swollen purses of Americans that we were glad to hear the truth about the fate of several million salaried and small business men. The reader will recall that The News has been talking about this forgotten class and have been wondering if Washington had forgotten those of us who are hard hit. It was announced by a Washington bureau that there are 30 million people in these United States who had received no advance in salaries; therefore, because of the increase in the cost of living, this great number of Americans now have less income than before the war. This is a larger number than we had anticipated, comprising about 22 per cent of the population. The next time you hear some radio artist pouring it on as to how prosperous the war was making the people of America, just recall that he is not talking about 30 million professional and small business people and white collared workers who are caught with no increases in income, but are suffering an actual decline of salaries.

What a difference in this fifth meeting of Churchill and Roosevelt from the other meetings. Secrecy clothed the first meetings. This meeting is being held with almost as much publicity and balahoo as a street carnival. This in itself indicates that the United Nations feel secure and that their political and military leaders need not fear our enemies as they once did. Of course we are burdened with a lot of speculation, pure brain child stuff. One thing is sure and certain, that this war is not the old toe to toe slugfest of former years. In order to save thousands of lives every campaign must be carefully mapped out, planned and checked to the minutest detail before operations start. Moscow may announce that Russia was not invited, but we are willing to bet that Stalin will be kept informed of every move that is being planned. When the shooting stops, that old boy will be seated near the head of the peace table, and will have a big say as to the future. No two men know this better than Churchill and Roosevelt.

Your gasoline coupon is worth three gallons of gas this week. We are told that this is necessary because people in the Eastern states can get only 3 gallons, while in the Southwest we have been getting 4 gallons per coupon. Most of us will drive just that much less, and will get along somehow. But is that winning the war, or anything like winning the war? We are told of the vast amount of gasoline needed to keep our mechanized fighting forces in operation. And we are likewise told that the gasoline we buy is the residue left in the manufacture of high octane gas. It all adds up, or seems to add up to the fact, that some wild eyed theorists connected with the administration are determined to do a little spanking to the people who live in this neck of the woods. Perhaps we are becoming too critical of the administration and his hord of money wasters.

We read with interest of the luxuries which are being planned for Americans after this war ends. We are going to have so many gadgets that life will be one continuous round of pushing buttons. On the other hand we are told by the brain trusters of the administration that there is too much money in the nation, and all of the surplus must be taxed away from the people to stop inflation. So there you are: We are going to have a miracle world after the war with no trouble at all; except you will have no money to buy these luxuries.

It is going to be queer this fall not to see football games in Canyon, but this condition will prevail in practically all towns where small colleges are located. The navy allows service men to play football, but the army refuses to allow men to engage in collegiate sports. Even if they were allowed to play, their interest would be so secondary that coaches could not rely upon them.

Recent Meeting of Amarillo Kiwanis Dedicated to W. T.

A recent meeting of the Amarillo Kiwanis Club was dedicated to West Texas State.

Dr. A. M. Meyer, head of the graduate school, discussed the wartime and post-war problems of education in general, and of West Texas State in particular. The continued depletion of the ranks of teachers; the necessity for increasing teachers' salaries; the advisability of federal aid to communities unable to finance adequately their own school systems, and the task of keeping all class-rooms open during the war, were listed as some of the general problems. Dr. Meyer then sketched the varied courses available at West Texas State, and urged Amarilloans to consider this $2,500,000 educational plant their own.

Miss Edna Mauldin sang two vocal numbers accompanied by Marion Miller. Miss Mauldin is a student here, and Miss Miller is employed in the Registrar's office.

He Goes in First

THIS MODERN-STYLE British Naval officer's duties include daring night raids on enemy-held coasts. He is in charge of British Naval Beach Parties, one of whose jobs is to land ahead of invasion troops, wade ashore with arms linked to discover any mines or underwater traps, then signpost the beaches for the troops to follow. It is little wonder that he bristles with firearms. This picture was taken during preparations for the invasion of Sicily.

Louise Villemain To Speak At Baptist Church

Miss Louise Villemain of Dallas, field worker of the Baptist State Training Union Department, will be the speaker at both hours at the First Baptist church next Sunday. She is to lead the local church in a week of study next week, when courses will be offered for all age groups.

She was reared in a so-called Christian home but was never permitted to have a Bible and was not converted until she was grown. She left that denomination and was educated at Mary Hardin-Baylor College at Belton, and at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth. She holds degrees from both institutions. Her story is an interesting one and will be heard with profit by all.

When the regular army had beaten a path to its paratroops and congratulations were over, an infantry officer asked one of the paratroopers: "But tell me, if your parachute hadn't opened when it did, what then?"

"That wouldn't have stopped me," replied the other. "I'd of come down just the same."

"And there you see my latest painting, entitled 'Plumber at Work.' It's very realistic."

"But the man is not working."

"Precisely—that's where the realism comes in."

School for Boy Scout Leaders To Be Held

School superintendents and Scout advisors are invited to attend a program to train leaders for the Boy Scout organization in this section. The program will be sponsored by the Rotary and Lions clubs and will begin September 1.

Men who plan to attend are asked to write or see Dr. Condron in advance so that arrangements can be made.

He stood on the stern of the promenade deck as his ship moved out into the river, admiring a graceful sea gull as it hovered, swooped, and dipped to recover some bits of food that had been thrown from the galley.

"Oi," said Meyer, "What a pretty pigeon."

"That's a gull," said a more experienced traveler with withering scorn."

"I don't care," said Meyer, "Gull or boy, it's a pretty pigeon."

Thanks in old age—thanks ere I go,
For health, the midday sun, the impalable air
—for life, more life,
For precious ever-lingering memories (of you my mother dear—you father—you brothers, sisters, friends),
For all my days—not those of peace alone—.
The days of war the same.
—Walt Whitman.

The mayor of a tough border town was about to engage a preacher for the new church.

"Parson, you aren't by any chance a Baptist are you?"

"No. Why?"

"Well, I was just going to say that we have to haul our water twelve miles."

Mankind are always happier for having been happy; so that if you make them happy now, you make them happy twenty years hence by the memory of it.—Sydney Smith.

Let's help our farmer neighbors with their hauling problems

AMERICA'S farmers have the tremendous responsibility of raising more food this Summer than ever before in the nation's history.

Farm manpower is scarce. Every hour of every farmer's time is vital to victory. Let's help conserve it.

Don't keep any farmer waiting

Owners of stores, operators of markets, warehouses, elevators, terminals and processing plants, can aid substantially in the success of the "Food for Victory" program by expediting the loading and unloading of farm products.

Every farmer is an essential home front soldier. Don't keep him waiting. He has a long way to go and no time to waste.

Studebaker dealers are co-operating

Studebaker dealers go out of their way to help obtain parts for all makes of trucks.

They co-operate further by handling special repair jobs for farmers as fast as possible.

Many Studebaker dealers have special facilities for locating used trucks, that have been idle or in part-time use, for sale to farmers.

Keep your car and truck up to par

All trucks and cars must be kept in good shape to safeguard the nation's vital transportation life lines. And that's especially important this Summer.

Drop in for regular inspections. Studebaker dealers' mechanics are Essential Transportation Workers who can spot and correct truck or car trouble before it becomes serious.

Ask for free copy of Studebaker's valuable, new, 48-page book, "Care and Maintenance of the Farm Truck"—or write Studebaker Truck Division, Dept. N, South Bend, Indiana.

A group of West Texas High School students entertained the Future Farmers of America boys last Friday night at the Methodist Encampment. High School girls, solo dances from "Down Under" by Carl Michell, accompanied by Miss Edwina Tooley, and piano numbers by Sam Johnson which included Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" and selections from Liszt and Rachmaninoff.

Work of Minister Was Subject Talk at Rotary Lunch

Rev. C. C. Armstrong, pastor of the Methodist Church, made a classification talk at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday on the work of a minister.

The pastor stated that one reason for the lack of accomplishments of ministers is the misconception on the part of the public as to what ministers are trying to do.

Because many people feel that the minister is different from other people, he is left severely alone, and thereby depriving the minister of the opportunity for service.

The ministry seeks to serve all men, regardless of their church affiliations. The minister seeks to do good to the bodies and the souls of men. "When I am able to lead men to a better life, I rejoice," stated the speaker.

Summed up, his duties, the work of the minister is praying, preaching and working. The minister finds plenty of work to do, and his time, day and night, cannot be called his own.

President Lee Johnson announced that joint meetings would be held with the Lions Club on Sept. 7 and 14 when Boy Scout work would be studied.

Regulations For Mailing Xmas Packages to Men

If you want to send Christmas packages or cards to an Army man overseas, you must mail them between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15. Gifts or cards to Navy personnel—which includes the Marines and Coast Guards—can be sent up to Nov. 1.

The Post office, War and Navy departments have agreed on these rules in order that Christmas parcels may reach the addresses on time and in good conditions. Full particulars have been forwarded to all post offices which have also been assured the rules will be enforced to the letter.

The three departments say service men are amply supplied with food and clothing and the public is urged not to send such material. Expressly prohibited are perishable matter; intoxicants, inflammable material such as matches of all kinds and lighter fluids; poisons; compositions which may kill or injure another or damage the mails.

No requests from service men or women are required in connection with Christmas parcels mailed during these prescribed periods. However, no person or firm can mail more than one package per week to the same addressee. Thus, if you want to mail four packages to the same Army man you must mail the first one in the first week after Sept. 15 and then mail one of the others in each succeeding week.

Each package should be endorsed "Christmas parcel." Each package must show the service man's name and first name or initial, his rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, APO number and the post office through which the parcel is to be routed. The parcel must also bear a complete return address.

Each box must be metal; wood; solid fiberboard; strong, double-faced corrugated fiberboard; or strong, fully telescoping cardboard boxes. Fiber- or cardboard boxes must be securely wrapped in strong paper and tied with twine.

However, every package will be subject to censorship so delays may be avoided by making inspection as easy as possible, and still meet mailing requirements.

Last, but not least, parcels must not weigh more than five pounds. They must not be more than 15 inches long, or 36 inches in length and girth combined.

Charles Ford is spending the remainder of the summer in Lubbock with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Quest.

Sgt. D. A. Butler Is Reported Safe

Bomber Crews Are Said to Be in Turkey; No Official Word From War Department

Mrs. Mamie Butler has received no further word from the War Department regarding the fate of her son, Sgt. D. A. Butler, who was reported missing in action on August 1. However, press dispatches tell of four American bombers being forced down in Turkey and listed Sgt. D. A. Butler as one of the crew. The bombers had raided the Rumanian oil fields.

Mrs. Butler hopes to have this dispatch verified by the War Department in a few days:

Istanbul, Turkey, Aug. 4.—Thirty-three of the American aviators who landed near here in four damaged Liberator bombers after the big Ploesti raid Sunday passed through Istanbul Friday night on their way to Ankara. They were jubilant at reports of the success of their attack. Five more, not seriously injured, were left behind in a hospital.

The question as to whether all will be interned remains to be decided by the Turkish authorities, but as all previously interned fliers have already been released, there is a possibility they may not be.

The pilots who told of the devastating raid on vital oil refineries chuckled at the report of hits and huge fires.

The four Liberators these men handled landed late Sunday afternoon at Chorlu in Thrace after they abandoned hope of getting the damaged aircraft back to their base. For military reasons, the crews could not give many details of the attack, but they say the anti-aircraft fire was terrific, while the fighter opposition was negligible.

Wave after wave of the big bombers went after targets carefully picked as the most vulnerable spots at the oil plants. According to one bombardier: "Sure we hit the target. We knocked the stuffing out of it."

The Turks were most friendly and gave all possible help and comfort. They even took the airmen on a tour of Istanbul during their three-hour wait between trains. One said it seems to him as though the Turks had been feeding them ever since they arrived and were outdoing themselves to be hospitable.

health of the frail mother and wife. She did not live long, and the responsibility of rearing the younger children fell upon the daughter, Mary Elizabeth. During these years, the family lived upon the frontier in Texas and in Sonora, Mexico. From her experiences in the new land and from her close association with her brothers, Miss Hudspeth developed much of the understanding of young people which stood her in good stead when she became a teacher.

Her influence and the influence of her home which reflected in her character and personality have been widespread. A student of hers, Ples Harper, is the first person from the United States to have been granted a Doctor's Degree by the University of San Marcos, Lima, Peru, which is the oldest university in the western world. However, her influence upon hearts and character as well as intellect, and gratitude of her colleagues and students is even greater for her thousands of kindnesses than for her intellectual guidance.

Hudspeth Art Room

Ex-students of the college expressed their appreciation of Miss Hudspeth in furnishing the money necessary to build the Mary E. Hudspeth Art Room which is a wing of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum.

At the services held in Canyon yesterday, Claude White, former assistant pastor of the local Baptist Church who had lived in Miss Hudspeth's home, spoke briefly. W. J. Williamson, student Methodist pastor, who had also lived in her home, offered prayer, following which President J. A. Hill spoke for himself and Miss Hudspeth's former students and members of the college faculty of her services to college community and nation.

Musical Program Given Tuesday at the Lions Club

Canyon Lions were favored with an extemporaneous program of piano music Tuesday noon. Air Cadet Jim Tierney of the College Training Detachment presented a group of miscellaneous selections which were pleasing to listen to.

Cadet Tierney stated that while he was in service in Alaska it was impossible for him to find a piano in good condition for him to play upon. After shipment it is impossible to tune the piano, due to the treatment it has been given.

The program was under the direction of Lion Gus Miller.

State Health Officer Issues Rules For Fight on Infantile Paralysis

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis, which is assuming epidemic proportions in certain sections of the state.

Until recently it was generally believed that this infection is transmitted by means of discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis is primarily another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must emphasize clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Strict sanitary measures must be observed in all communities. Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the house-fly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitoes and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Safe water supplies must be assured. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to promote and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should, under rigid supervision, maintain those standards approved by the Texas State Department of Health. This necessarily includes maintenance of proper chlorine level. Where such standards are not maintained, those pools should be closed immediately.

All raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use and protected from flies, filth and insects. All eating and food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State Law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. In the present emergency, those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness and high sanitary standards.

Every effort should be made to secure approved milk. Rats and mice should be eliminated. Maintain in the home the same sanitary standards that are necessary in community life. Particular attention should be paid to personal hygiene. Excretia from cases and contacts should be handled and disinfected with the same scrupulous care as in typhoid fever or bacillary dysentery.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children should not visit homes where there is a sick child. Cases should be quarantined for 14 days and adults who work in food establishments should be particularly instructed in personal hygiene. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches, and theaters be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by a stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

FFA Boys Hold Camp Last Week At the Canyons

The Future Farmers of the Hereford District, including Canyon, Friona, Bovina, Farwell, Lazzbuddie, Dimmitt, Happy, and Hereford met in a week of meetings and recreation Tuesday through Saturday of last week.

The program was arranged for a combination of leadership development, education, and recreation. The group gathered in official meetings that were in charge of the different chapters present, so that a large number of boys present were permitted to take part.

Election of the District Officers and the officer for the Area for the coming year was held after the Coronation Exercise Friday night. Willard Spiser, W. T. High, is to be Area President; James Lair, Canyon High, is to be District President; Carl Myers, W. T. High, is District Vice-president; Verlin Talkington, Friona, is secretary; Robert Duke, Dimmitt, is treasurer; C. W. Reeves, Hereford, is District reporter; W. G. Sanderson, Canyon High, is District Adviser.

Sixty-eight Future Farmers and prospectives, and six Chapter advisers attended the camp. Most of the boys present ventured the guess that attendance would be at least twice as many boys present next year after finding out how successful the camp and meetings have been this year.

The boys who attended from Canyon High were Eugene Bonds, Charles SoRelle, Lewis Hales, Richmond Hales, Weldon Lindsey, Lewell Johnson, Kenneth Smith, James Lair, Douglas Walker, Cortez McNeil, and "Corky" Hart.

Those from W. T. High were Carl Jennings, Alvin Jennings, Carroll SoRelle, Irving SoRelle, Dale Russell, Ross Russell, Pat Campbell, Glenn Dorris, Willard Spiser, Karl Myers, Bill Knighton, John Boling, Liol Jones, Herchel Jones, E. W. Wambal, and J. W. Higgens.

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of farm boys who are taking vocational agriculture in high schools. The two main purposes of the organization is to further their efforts to become farmers and to train themselves for leadership among others of their business.

Singing Sons Of Freedom

By Mister So

To the people of or near the college campus the marching songs of the 350th. are well known. However, many of the townspeople inquire as to the names of the songs and their origin.

Undoubtedly the most popular of all songs is the official army air corps song which starts off with the stirring challenge: "Off we go into the wild blue yonder." Another favorite of the detachment is the air corps' pilots' song, entitled "Into the Air Army Air Corps."

To verbally display the spirit of friendship for two of our fighting allies, two other songs are frequently sung. One is "Sixpence," the song of the saviours of Britain, the Royal Air Force. The other is "Aloutte" a French song which has been adopted by the Royal Canadian Air Force. Various adaptations have been made of this song, but the correct version concerns a bird, Alouette, and the various expressions such as ala-bec, ala ri, ala tet, and ala bush describe the bird's plumage and anatomy.

Other songs which enjoy popularity with men in the camps throughout the United States include "Working On the Railroad," "Beer Barrel Polka," "Parley Vous," "Marine Hymn," "Anchors Away," "Caisson Song," and several songs usually sung among men such as "Far, Far Away," "Pre-flight Song," and "Souse Family."

The marching song of Squadron "C," and also sung by all the other flights is "Wait Till the Sun Shines Nellie."

The official song of Squadron "D," which resides in Stafford Hall is the song "Stafford Hall" and the drinking song, "In the Cellar of Old Stafford Hall."

The next time you hear the words of a song echoing from the buildings and resounding over the campus remember that the greatest common denominator among men from every corner of this country is a song.

We sing as we work, we sing as we play, we sing as we march to victory.

Letter to Home

Monday, August 16, 1943.

Dear Mom,

Here it is another week and another letter. I know I am not writing often, but there isn't much to write about. Life here goes on the same day after day. That is, as far as happenings are concerned. In class work, it is a different thing; each day new ideas are introduced and more knowledge is absorbed.

All of this week was spent in a more absorbed study, in preparation for exams, which were given on Friday. The tests were like I've never had before. The first test was very stiff and each following test seemed more so. By the time that the noon hour came, my head was really in a whirl.

We've moved our place of abode now, to Terrill Courts. A very attractive place. There are six of us in our room, Mom, and what a zany crew! There is Mr. Moss, who is a mirror addict; Mr. Kvam who lives only for letters from his wife; Mr. Parker, who is always trying to start a "Get Acquainted Club;" Mr. Kittell, who talks incessantly about horseback riding and lives for the day when he can buy a pair of western boots, and lastly Mr. Morris. Right now he has a bad cough and it's hard on me. Every night I get seasick because of him. He sleeps in the upper bunk over me and when he coughs the bed resembles a skiff on a lake during a storm. Two more days of this and I'll be waking in the middle of the night, yelling, "Man the life boats, the ship's sinking!

I've been promoted to right guide for Flight 6 now. I enjoy that, because now I'm right out in front of everyone. It can prove embarrassing at times tho. Like the time we were marching from class and the order was given for the flight to do a column right. The movement was executed beautifully by every member of the flight and off down a side street they marched in perfect formation; that is, all except me. I didn't hear the command and I marched straight ahead all by myself.

Went out to the Palo Duro Canyon on Sunday, and I had a wonderful time. The canyon is really an awe-inspiring sight. I only wish that you and Dad could be here to see it. There isn't any place that I know of, in the east, that compares with this marvel of nature. Along with Misters Parker, Kittell, and Kovaks, I went horseback riding thru the Canyon. Enjoyed every minute of it. Finally have the hang of riding—I think. The four of us made a pretty sight on our horses; especially Mr. Parker, who brought up the rear mounted on a long eared mule.

Will close for now, and will write again next week.

Your loving son,
Dusty.

Flights 5 & 6

By Smitty

Well the week-end's over and we are all back to view the last week's mistakes and this week's headaches. There seems to be plenty of them.

Squadron "T" has been the recipient of many commendations on its singing. The leader of this singing is Stephen Niatas who formerly sang over radio station WTTM. He has given the squadron many new songs, fitting the words to music we all know. He is really due for a "thanks" from all the boys.

We are all settled in Terrill Hall now and like it fine. Six men in a room is much better than one large hall for eighty. We miss the ice cold water we had at N. Y. A., but in its place is a coke machine. It has befallen this writer to be in charge of this small (?) detail. It was passed to him, starting with the Squadron Commander and going down the chain of command as far as possible. I'll bet I get a cold drink every time I want one though.

Quite a few of the boys were wondering how AC-S Weathersby got a flat tire on his car. We'll bet he drove back from home on it and didn't even know it. Have other things on your mind, Newt?

"Wild Bill" Lyons, our Idaho bronc-buster was out riding Sunday morning. Says Bill on Monday morning, "These Texas "hosses" are pushovers;" in a whisper, "who's got some good old number 6 liniment."

A Boy Died Last Night

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Capt. Jack Holt, with 30 years in the movies behind him, is now a featured player in this country's biggest drama, World War No. 2. His son is also a member of the cast. Capt. Holt has many reasons for wanting the war to end; that's why he was willing to take on an extra task, that of guest speaker at a recent broadcast of What's Your Name, Soldier? Eighth Service Command soldier radio show. His talk, reproduced here, is a special message to the civilian employees of the Service Command).

A boy died last night . . . it doesn't make much difference about his name. The important thing is that he died . . . in pain and awful loneliness, out somewhere in a waste of sand, out in a starless silence, 10,000 miles from home.

"Missing in action" read an obscure line in this morning's paper. That was all. The fine head and the shining face and broad shoulders remain only a picture that looks out upon a quiet living room on a shaded street.

Last night in those agonizing hours in unspeakable isolation, he went through a thousand deaths without the one thing that might have helped a little . . . the sound of a familiar voice, the pat of a friendly hand. Last night he died in utter desolation, in an unimaginable loneliness . . . the pain was bad enough . . . but then he must have had that dreadful thought in those last endless hours . . . never again to see Mother and Father and sister and brother.

Is all this too much for you? It's cruel and it's brutal, but it really happened last night . . . just like that. If people could only understand it, if they would just grind deep into their thinking . . . the stark, terrible reality of it . . . then every petty, selfish interest would be swept away. They would sacrifice everything to make themselves worthy of that boy. If we who have basked and walked secure in this land would understand about this boy . . . we would wait no longer for government decrees, and the urging to attend rallies and buy bonds, and save our scrap and the many so important things in which we could be of so much help.

There just wouldn't be anyone left who would try to make of this war a means of gaining personal interest this day, tomorrow, the day after that, or ever—until victory is ours.

We the people would rise up and demand that our leaders take everything, exact everything needed . . . make us walk, feed us the commonest fare, take away every cent of profit . . . we the people would rise out of our complacent comfort and easy security . . . just to avenge that boy! . . . That boy, who died last night . . . died for you and me!

Just think about this boy, and you'll understand why I do not think it necessary to make an impassioned plea to buy war bonds.

Promoted to Major

The Commander of the College Detachment was promoted Saturday to Major. Major R. C. Corbin has been here only a few weeks, and is doing splendid work in the interest of the detachment.

Farewell to College For Class "E"

By John Diener

With this column the members of Flights One and Two say farewell to West Texas State. It has been an important time in our Army life, and one which we will always remember. For the past two months we have attended school and studied subjects which will help us in our quest for those coveted Silver Wings. Although we would like to have stayed longer and continued our studies, it is necessary for us to make the next step towards our goal. So it is that we write and dedicate our last column to those who made our stay at the college as pleasant and enjoyable as it has been. To the members of the faculty, our flying instructors, the teachers who were here for the summer period, the athletic instructors, and all the students of the college who helped us to make our stay here as pleasant as it has been. They all went out of their way to be nice to us and we want them to know that we appreciate it.

Our last two weeks here was spent in flying, and there were some very interesting experiences. Each night, when we went to bed, voices could be heard throughout the courts as the men exchanged stories of their flying ability, and their prowess as aviators. Each man had a story to tell, and each had some thrilling experience to relate. Since we do not have time to tell all of the stories we will relate a couple of the most interesting.

On his second day of flying, A-S Mitchell Agruss had one of the most exciting times of his short aviation career. He had flown once in the early part of the afternoon and was going up for the second time. The plane took off and reached an altitude of seven hundred feet. Suddenly the instructor sensed something wrong. Taking over the controls, he soon discovered the cause of the trouble. The control cable to the rudder was broken. The instructor asked Mr. Arguss if he were afraid to jump. When the student told him that he was not, the instructor thought about going up to two thousand feet and giving the student a chance to bail out. However, he decided that he would need his extra weight to land the ship. After a short period of worry the instructor landed the ship and brought it in to the hangar. Both the pilot and his pupil breathed a sigh of relief. "It was quite an experience to have," said Mr. Arguss. We all agree with him.

A-S Jim Payne says that his biggest worry is making landings, and the rest of the group agree with him. On his third flight, Jim came in all prepared to make a perfect three point landing, and improve his final average. He made a landing all right, but it wasn't exactly three point. At the last minute, a gust of wind caught the ship and caused the tail wheel to hit first, but hard. As Jim tells it: "I heard a sickening thud, and a sharp snaping sound, and couldn't imagine what was happening. I taxied back to the line, and noticed that there was a dragging feeling in the tail of the ship. After I stopped the motor, I climbed out to look and discovered that the tail wheel had been broken in the landing. Was my face red?" We hope you have better luck next time, Jim, because tail wheels cost money.

For many of the men it was their first time in the air, and although one or two of them had a few ill-effects from their first flight, they soon became accustomed to the feeling.

A-S Pete Garvaglia claimed that he wanted to be a bombardier for the first day, but after that he discovered that he could control his stomach.

A-S Chester Ohnemus was really crazy about the flying and was always on hand to take his turn, and also to take the turn of anyone who wasn't there at the proper time.

One of the highest marks made by our group, was made by Lt. Jack Stephenson on his last flight. It seems that he has been holding out on us, and that he really has the stuff of which pilots are made.

A-S "Longhorn" Gunter was heard to remark to A-S John Diener that they could have waited a couple of weeks to make their trip to Wheeler, and they might have been able to fly. If they had they might have been able to get back on time.

So ends our final column. Once again permit me to say that we have enjoyed our stay here to the utmost, and we will leave here with nothing but regrets that our time was so short. On behalf of the entire group I want to say thanks a million to all of you who helped us in any way, and we are leaving here with the hope that we all may have a chance to return in the near future, and renew our friendship with each and every one of you.

So long, and thanks again.

Flight "4"

By A. Stromber

A surprise party was given in honor of the college dietician, Miss Jean Pierce. The party was given by the Detachment Staff and Miss Pierce's co-workers in the cafeteria.

A-S William Rowe received a pleasant surprise this week in the form of his wife. This was their first meeting in over four months and, needless to say, Mister Rowe was a very happy man.

The students of Flight "4" have moved to Stafford Hall and are glad of the change. All agree that Stafford Hall is a pretty swell place.

Another group of "Rookies" arrived last Friday evening from Sheppard Field, Texas. Already these boys are enthused over the friendliness of the people here and the pleasant, serene surroundings.

We understand that Flight "4" shall be the proud possessors of new name tags. And they are to be "baby pink" in color!

One of our boys bought his girl back home a beautiful, large engagement ring and all she could say was, "It fits!" Maybe she believes in that age old maxim "Silence is golden."

Speaking of rings, here is a joke I heard the other day.

Mary: "Ann, I hear you have broken your engagement with Johnny."

Ann: "Yes, I'm afraid I did."

Mary: "You returned his ring, of course?"

Ann: "Oh, no, just because I changed toward Johnny doesn't mean that I've changed toward his ring."

Who started that rumor that the young lady I was squiring around town last week was my sister? Maybe I'm not a handsome fellow, but I am a very good conversationalist.

Everyone in the Detachment extends it's congratulations to Major Corbyn. Major Corbyn received his promotion last week.

Until next week I'll be saying, "Cheerio!"

"Are you doing anything for the preservation of antiques?"

"You bet I am, I sell cosmetics."

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Randall County News of August 15, 1818)

W. H. Younger, Jr. has been promoted in France from 1st Lieut. to Captain.

According to cards to Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Fronabarger, their sons, Luther and Ford, have arrived in France.

J. E. Willis has resigned as superintendent of the Canyon schools to become dean of Wayland College in Plainview.

Congressman Marvin Jones has landed in France to study war conditions.

James Willis was sent by the local board to the army.

Dr. S. L. Ingham returned from Hampton, Iowa, where he recently underwent an operation for appendicitis.

At his best man is the noblest of all animals; separated from law and justice, he is the worst.—Aristotle.

The whole world is strewn with snares, traps, gins and pitfalls for the capture of men by women.—George Bernard Shaw.

We are Building
OUR NEW HOME
in a Safety Deposit Box

"Our regular purchase of U. S. War Savings Bonds is building a nest egg that will build our new home after the war.

"We are collecting lots of ideas that we may put into our plans, but one thing we are sure of . . . and that is that our home will be modern electrically, all the way from its unseen adequate wiring in the walls, down to the shiny electric range in the kitchen.

"We notice that our friends with modern electric homes seem to have placed home operation on an almost effortless plane. Cooking is easy . . . there is always enough hot water . . . lamps, radios and electric appliances anywhere because there are lots of electrical convenience outlets.

"In our new home, too, electricity's various services will push the routine of running a home into the background, giving us more time and opportunity to enjoy the real pleasures of home."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

by BOYCE HOUSE

Sayings of the wise:

Youth is the time to study wisdom; old age, to practice it.

The world oftener rewards the appearance of merit than merit itself.

A king's mistake costs dear.

Nomination for the old joke contest: "That fellow saved my life once; he shot at me and missed."

Nearly as old is the ranch country joke: "He saved a lot of lives one time; he killed the camp cook."

Under a new law, the state auditor is no longer appointed by the governor, but is chosen by a committee of the legislature. The committee recently met and decided to retain the present state auditor, about the only change being to raise his salary from $4,600 to $7,500 a year—an increase of 62 per cent.

This should be interesting news to farmers, stock raisers and dairymen of Texas, who report they find it difficult to make any profit on their products in the face of rising costs and increased taxes.

Also this news should interest thousands of workers in Texas whose salaries and wages have not been increased at all or very little.

The 189,000 elderly citizens whose pensions have been cut below the grant will find no consolation in the fact that a state official's salary has been hiked by $2,900 a year.

Business men, struggling with coupons, report forms, shortages of sales force and with ceiling prices, may not be so enthusiastic about this news from Austin, either.

Oil men who have been trying in vain for a year to get a small increase in the price of oil ought to write to the legislative committee and get their recipe!

What will the school teachers, many of whom receive less than $900 a year, think about it?

And, finally, what kind of news is this to the many thousands of fighting Texans who are plodding through the slime of jungles and are storming machine gun nests at $50 a month?

A hike of 62 per cent in the salary of an already well-paid state official! Apparently, the legislative committee has never heard of price ceilings and salary freezing! Apparently, the committee has never heard of economy! Should someone break the news to them that there is a war on?

Lieut. Hazlewood Sees Action In European Theater

Lieut. Woodrow Hazlewood of Canyon is another American who doesn't think much of Axis propaganda.

"After we had landed we heard the German radio broadcasting that we had been forced into the sea," Lieutenant Hazlewood writes.

Entering the army early in 1942, he first trained in the infantry. He trained as a bombardier at Midland and then received his commission in the Army Air Force intelligence Branch at Harrisburg.

He is the son of W. T. Hazlewood of Canyon.

We have ben enjoying the series of meetings conducted by the Revs. Upton and Lloyd Garrison. Miss Maxine Slaton has been leading the singing for us. There have been nine additions to the church and several conversions that will join elsewhere.

Miss Geraldine Sharpes is vacationing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Sharpes this week.

The E. W. Schaeffer family had as guests Sunday Rev Lloyd Garrison, Rev. Upton, Miss Maxine Slaton, Ervin Wilson, Frank Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley and Vesta Amerson, Delbert and Lola Wesley and Florene Evans.

Miss Elizabeth Garrison is spending this week visiting in the home of J. W. Wesley, Vesta Amerson, Evelyn Schaeffer, Lola and Delbert Wesley and Ervin Wilson. She visited in the F. O. Amerson home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley visited last week end at Lubbock in the home of their daughter, Mrs. D. L. Whitson.

Mrs. Tucker visited Sunday with Mrs. C. M. Rogers.

Red Wilson was called to Austin by the critical illness of his mother.

As the moths around a taper,
As the bees around a rose,
As the gnats around a vapour,
So the spirits group and close
Round about a holy childhood as if drinking in repose.—Browning.

It's a good idea to "put up" fruits and vegetables for next winter . . . but if you put up your car instead of using it for essential transportation, you actually throw an additional burden on overloaded streetcars, buses, and trains.

In the national interest, as well as in your own, the way to preserve your car is to give it the care it needs and deserves in times like these.

Save rubber, gasoline, and oil by cutting down driving speed. And get expert help to make your car and your tires go farther and last longer.

This expert help is waiting for you at every Phillips 66 Service Station. Go there at least once a week so that the Phillips 66 Service Man can check tire inflation. In hot weather, twice-a-week tire checks are even better. Remember, under-inflation not only increases tire wear but places an unnecessary drag on the engine and thus wastes gasoline.

The Phillips 66 Service Man will also inspect your tires for cuts and bruises, will crisscross them with the spare every 3,000 miles, will tell you when re-capping is advisable. He will check your radiator, battery, and air filter. Will change crankcase oil, and lubricate chassis parts at the nationally recommended 60-day intervals.

Remember, whether you buy one coupon's worth of famous Phillips 66 gasoline, or merely want water or air, Good Neighbor Service is always waiting for you at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.
